Definitions

Index: An index is a theoretical portfolio of assets representing a particular market or a portion of it. Each index has its own calculation methodology and is usually expressed in terms of a change from a base value. Thus, the percentage change is more important than the actual numeric value.

* Repayment: Loans are generally repaid "as and when" the Community Scheme collects its arrear levies, typically within an average of five years.

Risk averse investments: Risk averse refers to an investor who, when faced with two investments with a similar expected return, prefers the one with the lower risk.

Sharpe ratio: Financial ratio utilised to examine the performance of an asset class by adjusting for its risk. The ratio shows the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of volatility or total risk.
